A. Background

Public Law 108-15, enacted on April 23, 2003, established the Citizens Coinage Advisory Committee (CCAC) to advise the Secretary of the Treasury on theme and design proposals relating to circulating coinage, commemorative coinage, bullion coinage, Congressional Gold Medals and national medals. This report presents the CCAC’s recommendations for commemorative coinage in each of the next five calendar years, and summarizes the CCAC’s activities during fiscal year 2007.

B. CCAC Recommendations

1. General Recommendations

American coins are not only objects of commerce, but also enduring reminders of our country’s history, achievements, and values. The CCAC encourages the highest standards of artistic excellence for America’s coins, and appreciates and supports United States Mint Director Edmund C. Moy’s call for a “Neo-Renaissance” in American coin design.

2. Circulating Commemoratives

The past decade has seen a number of successful changes in circulating coin designs. The ongoing 50 State Quarters® Program commemorates each state in the order of admission to the Union; the Westward Journey Nickel Series™ celebrated the accomplishments of the Lewis and Clark expedition; and the ongoing Presidential $1 Coin Program honors America’s Presidents in the order of their service. Innovation in coin design will continue in 2009, when the bicentennial of President Lincoln’s birth will be celebrated with the issue of multiple one-cent coin designs commemorating different aspects of his life, and in 2010, with the introduction of a new one-cent coin design representing Lincoln’s role in preserving the Union.

The CCAC would be pleased to serve as a resource in the development of additional proposals for circulating commemoratives, including, possibly a five-year circulating “Liberty” commemorative series beginning in 2010. Each year, one denomination could be issued with an image representing Liberty, alongside the regular design for that denomination. The series could begin with a Liberty half-dollar issued alongside the Kennedy half-dollar during the year 2010, followed by a Liberty quarter issued alongside the Washington quarter in 2011, a Liberty dime issued alongside the Roosevelt dime in 2012, a Liberty 5-cent coin (nickel) issued alongside the Jefferson nickel in 2013, and a Liberty cent issued alongside the Lincoln cent in 2014. With these five new coins, each issued for a single year, America’s coinage would present a series of new, artistic images representing one of America’s core values.
3. Numismatic Commemoratives

   The United States Congress has a long tradition of authorizing numismatic commemoratives, minted and issued by the United States Mint for sale to the general public. The Commemorative Coin Reform Act of 1996 (Public Law 104-208) provides that the Secretary may mint and issue no more than two commemorative coin programs in any calendar year. The CCAC recommends that each year’s two programs should be selected from the following alternatives:

2008:

Program Already Enacted:

- American Bald Eagle Recovery and National Emblem [not more than 750,000 copper-nickel clad half-dollars, not more than 500,000 silver dollars, and not more than 100,000 $5 gold coins, authorized by Public Law 108-486].

2009:

Programs Already Enacted:

- Abraham Lincoln Bicentennial [not more than 500,000 silver dollars, authorized by Public Law 109-285].
- Louis Braille Bicentennial [not more than 400,000 silver dollars, authorized by Public Law 109-247].

2010:

Programs Already Enacted:

None

Programs Recommended by the CCAC:

- 150th Anniversary of the Pony Express/50th Anniversary of Echo communications satellite. This combined commemorative would celebrate the evolution of American communication technology, from hand-carried messages to instant global information. Recommended mintage: 500,000 coins, with consideration given to a bimetallic bronze/silver or bimetallic gold/silver composition.

- American Veterans Disabled for Life. The Armed Forces of the United States have served bravely in conflicts around the world, and this program would honor the sacrifices of America’s living disabled veterans. Recommended mintage: 500,000 silver dollars.

2011:

Programs Already Enacted:

None

Programs Recommended by the CCAC:

- - 2 -
50th Anniversary of the Peace Corps. Since 1961, the Peace Corps and its volunteers have helped people in underdeveloped countries around the world to promote peace and friendship. Recommended mintage: not more than 500,000 silver dollars.

200th Anniversary of the Birth of Harriet Beecher Stowe. The publication of Stowe’s Uncle Tom’s Cabin in 1852 was a landmark event in the struggle against slavery in the United States. Recommended mintage: not more than 500,000 silver dollars.

2012

Programs already enacted: None

Programs recommended by the CCAC:
National Fallen Firefighters Memorial. Located on the grounds of the National Fire Academy in Emmitsburg, MD, the National Fallen Firefighters Memorial honors American firefighters who have died in the line of duty. Recommended mintage: 500,000 silver dollars.

200th Anniversary of the Battle between U.S.S. Constitution and H.M.S. Guerriere. First launched in 1797 as one of the original vessels of the United States Navy, the U.S.S. Constitution was given the nickname “Old Ironsides” in 1812 after demonstrating impressive durability in a battle with H.M.S. Guerriere. Still afloat today, the ship is a popular tourist attraction. Recommended mintage: not more than 500,000 silver dollars.

C. CCAC Activities During Fiscal Year 2007

Images of the designs recommended by the CCAC, as well as the designs chosen to be issued, can be found at the end of this report.

1. 50 State Quarters Program
The United States Mint’s 50 State Quarters® Program honors each state in the Union with a commemorative design for the reverse of the circulating quarter-dollar. Since the Program’s origin in 1999, five quarters have been issued each year in the order of the states’ admission to the Union. During Fiscal Year 2007 the CCAC evaluated proposed designs for the 2008 quarters honoring Oklahoma, Arizona, New Mexico, Alaska, and Hawaii.

2. Presidential $1 Coins
Since 2007, four circulating dollar coins have been issued each year as part of the Presidential $1 Coin Program. These coins honor America’s deceased Presidents in the order of their service. During Fiscal Year 2007, the CCAC evaluated proposed designs for the 2008 issues of the Presidential $1 Coin Program, honoring James Monroe, John Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson, and Martin Van Buren.

3. Lincoln Cents
During the year 2009, the United States Mint will issue four one-cent coins with reverses representing different aspects of the life of Abraham Lincoln. The obverse design will continue to bear the current likeness of Lincoln by Victor David Brenner. The CCAC recommended designs for the coins honoring Lincoln’s birth in Kentucky, Lincoln’s formative years in Indiana, and Lincoln’s professional life in Illinois. However, the CCAC did not recommend any of the designs portraying Lincoln’s Presidency in Washington, DC.

4. American Bald Eagle Commemoratives
   The CCAC considered designs for a single commemorative program: the gold $5 piece, silver dollar, and clad-half dollar commemorating the American Bald Eagle.

5. First Spouse Bullion Coin Designs:
   In conjunction with the Presidential $1 Coin Program, the United States Mint will mint and issue one-half ounce 24-karat gold bullion $10 coins featuring America’s First Spouses. Each coin will feature a portrait of the First Spouse on the obverse, with a reverse image emblematic of the First Spouse’s life and work. For Presidents who did not have a spouse while in office, the obverse will feature an image emblematic of the concept of Liberty from a coin design issued during that President’s term in office, and a reverse design symbolizing the themes of that President. During Fiscal Year 2007, the CCAC reviewed proposed designs for the 2008 First Spouse issues, honoring Elizabeth Monroe, Louisa Adams, Andrew Jackson’s Liberty, and Martin Van Buren’s Liberty.

6. Medal Designs:
   The CCAC reviewed proposed designs for Congressional Gold Medals honoring Tenzin Gyatso, the Fourteenth Dalai Lama of Tibet; Dr. Norman Borlaug; and Byron Nelson. The CCAC was enthusiastic about these designs, considering them to be outstanding examples of numismatic art.

D. CCAC Public Meetings held during Fiscal Year 2007

   The CCAC held nine public meetings during Fiscal Year 2007:

   - November 14, 2006, at United States Mint Headquarters in Washington, DC
   - January 23, 2007, at United States Mint Headquarters in Washington, DC
   - March 20, 2007, at United States Mint Headquarters in Washington, DC
   - May 15, 2007, in Philadelphia, PA
   - August 10, 2007, in Milwaukee, WI, in conjunction with the Annual Convention of the American Numismatic Association
   - September 25, 2007, at United States Mint Headquarters in Washington, DC

E. Membership of the CCAC
The CCAC consists of 11 members appointed by the Secretary of the Treasury. Four members are appointed based on their special qualifications; three members are appointed to represent the general public; and four members are appointed after recommendation by the leadership of the United States Congress. The members of the CCAC as of September 30, 2007 were:

John K. Alexander (appointed based on special qualifications in American History)

Dr. Alexander is a professionally trained historian who has served as a university professor for more than three decades. Prior to being appointed to the Citizens Coinage Advisory Committee, he worked as a Professor of History at the University of Cincinnati. His positions there have included History Department Director of Undergraduate Studies, Associate Professor of History, and Assistant Professor of History.

Among his accomplishments, Dr. Alexander has authored three books, Render Them Submissive: Response to Poverty in Philadelphia, 1760-1800; The Selling of the Constitutional Convention of 1787: A History of News Coverage; and Samuel Adams: America’s Revolutionary Politician. Dr. Alexander’s other accomplishments include writing several other publications and serving as one of the Associate Editors for the American National Biography project.

Dr. Alexander’s honors and awards include the A.B.
